Subject: Microsoft settlement

I wish to state my views in regard to the recent Microsoft Settlement. I for one, (and I believe the majority of the general public) , am pleased that the Microsoft case has gone to settlement so we can put this behinds us all and move on. Enough taxpayers money has been spend on pursuing a company under the assumption that the consumers will benefit from government legal intervention, when in fact the consumers have only benefited from Microsoft's products and innovations.

Sincerely,
Bruce A. Campbell
